

Hopeless Fight

I do believe there are times you get the best of me, baby

I run to try to find what's in this heart of mine

Living my life for you

You know me better than I know myself – but I don't mind, baby

I get such pleasure from this pain

It keeps me coming back again, over and over to you

There's just no calm in the desert

Passion's embers are on fire

Burning with the rage out of control

Our souls are tangled in this life

Surrender to this hopeless fight

Love until we can't love anymore

Til we can't love anymore

There's nothing you will take of what I tried to give, baby

You see what's special in this life

That others hold through endless strife

But I'm willingly surrendering to you

There's just no calming the desire

Passion's embers are on fire

Burning with the rage out of control

Our souls are tangled in this life

Surrender to this hopeless fight

Love until we can't love anymore

Til we can't love anymore

Passion's embers are on fire

Burning with the rage out of control

Love until we can't love anymore

Til we can't love him anymore
